

Facilities Hire at the National Maritime College of Ireland

The National Maritime College of Ireland is a unique co-operative venture between Cork Institute of Technology, the Irish Naval Service and Focus Education. The College caters for the education and training needs of the merchant navy and the non-military training requirements of the Naval Service and provides a broad range of training services for the maritime industry.

The college is a public-private partnership and has the capability to provide facilities for hire. Already many sporting clubs are using the sports hall and survival pool while local industry uses our conferencing facilities. We have hosted various conferences, events and meetings in different areas of the college. We can offer marine simulation exercises as a unique 'breakout' experience during conferences and can run team-building exercises in our sea survival pool to enhance the success of your off-site team-building days.

As a maritime college, we have a broad range of specialist facilities which include a sea survival pool, a fire training unit, an electrical plant workshop, a welding workshop, mechanical engineering workshops, ship bridge simulators, communications laboratories, a shipwright's workshop, a ship's engine room, first aid training room and a chart room amongst others. Check our website for extensive details on our specialist facilities all of which are available for hire.

NMCI Restaurant

The college restaurant is located at the waters edge and overlooks Haulbowline Island and the town of Cobh.

Your delegates can take their refreshments in a reserved area of the restaurant or in your meeting room. A range of options are available for lunch in the college restaurant and additional requirements can be catered for on request.

If you would like to hold an evening reception in the NMCI, we can provide drinks and a selection of hot and cold finger food or hot and cold buffet for you and your guests.

We can also cater for large groups of students such as Summer Camps and Activity Groups who use our facilities.

Note

- Catering prices are inclusive of VAT
